Dear Benjamin,

I have arrived few days ago to London, and just settled down in Hendon, a Jewish dominant suburb in the north. I hope very much that I will find a year long enough to finish writing my dissertation in Sociology on the subject: The Civil-Military Relations in Israel. So, I'll be able to go back soon to Israel, and to join Dov once again with another attempt to get into a position of political influence, which will make us able to materialize the belief, ideas and values we hold.

I was really sorry for Dov's failure to get into the "Knesset". It was a loss both for him and for the Knesset. As for me a break from active politics for a year of academic studies can only be of advantage, and I am really thankful to you for that.

Whenever you are in London, don't hesitate to call on me.

With best regards

Yoram Peri
