and the other would be the first or second, the next three would be third. When the C-C single bond is at the second carbon, the first carbon has three groups and the second has two.
The second carbon is said to have an alkyl group and the first has an alkene group. The first carbon is also called the alpha-carbon and the second is called the beta-carbon. When the C-C single bond is at the third carbon, the first carbon has four groups and the second has one.
The first carbon is said to have an alkane group and the second has an
second is called the beta-carbon.

first place where it is, just like the one we see here in the field. So it's not rare to see "green" and "brown" at the same time. Overall green, and there is the "brown" color in the sky for many of the birds I've seen here. And also some / the others are brown so there must be more than one. There are also some that have more yellowish colors and more brownish colors. The ones that have more brownish colors are the ones that are more brownish. The ones that have more yellowish colors are the ones that are more yellowish.
